

Francesco Privitera's Presentation: "21st Century in Motion: Migration and Identity in a Global Perspective"

Francesco Privitera's presentation examines the complexities of migration in the 21st century, focusing on its impact on identity in a globalized world. He discusses how increasing migration flows reshape national identities, cultural dynamics, and social structures. Privitera explores the challenges of integration, the fluidity of identity in a multicultural context, and the tensions that arise from global mobility. His analysis highlights the interplay between migration, globalization, and identity transformation, stressing the need for new frameworks to address these evolving issues in contemporary society.
